Book name: Food Proteins and Peptides: Chemistry, Functionality, Interactions and Commercialization
Author: Navam S. Hettiarachchy, Kenji Sato, Maurice R. Marshall and Arvind Kannan
Published: CRC press, New York, 2012
Paperback: 470 pages
Language: English
ISBN: 9781420093414

People who are interested in the application of proteins and peptides in food will be interested in reading this book. It is divided into 17 chapters covering fundamentals of chemistry and structure-function relationships in food proteins and peptides, characterization of proteins and peptides in solubility emulsification and foaming, the interactions and functionalities of food proteins and peptides, and technology advances in bioactive peptides. Furthermore, industry perspectives and commercial trends for food proteins and bio-peptides are included along with examples used in the food industry. Readers will clearly understand the characterization and application of food proteins and peptides. The knowledge offered by the authors will allow readers to develop new food products. This book is suitable for researchers and students in field related to biochemistry, biotechnology, food science and technology, nutrition, and medicine as well as people who are involved in food research development and food quality control.

Guidelines for Writing and Submitting Original Manuscripts for Publication in Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science

Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science is an academic publication that aims to publish manuscripts such as original articles, review articles, and book reviews in the fields of Food, Medical Science and Nutrition, Agriculture, Environmental Science and other related fields. The journal is published thrice annually. All manuscripts accepted for publication are copyrighted by Suan Dusit University; reproduction, in whole or in part, requires written approval from Suan Dusit University. Excluding errors incurred during the printing process, all content contained within articles is the author's responsibility.

Publication Process

1. The journal accepts original manuscripts for consideration, from January to December.
2. The editorial board adjourns to consider the merits or submitted manuscripts and the scope of the journal. During this phase the integrity and accuracy of the manuscripts content is assessed.
3. An editorial letter is issued to the author for manuscripts that the editorial board deems inappropriate for publication. If the editorial board approves the manuscripts, an editorial letter will be sent to the author and the article will be subjected to peer review.
4. Articles that are deemed appropriate for publication are subjected to peer review by a panel of three experts in the appropriate field. In order to be deemed appropriate for publication, an article must be by recommended two of the three experts.
5. The qualitative assessments of the expert panel returned by the manuscript's author. The author is expected to make the appropriate alterations indicated by the experts' feedback.
6. The author returns the edited document; the editorial staff examines the changes to make sure they are congruent with the experts' recommendations as well as the journal format.
7. The revised version is granted the University's recognition of "Accepted" for publication status with the Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science Stamp on every page. Information regarding publication status (Accepted) is located on the journal's website (<http://research.dusit.ac.th/new/e-Journal>)
8. The editorial team conducts an accuracy check for all articles before sending the manuscripts to the printer to create a draft journal issue.
9. The editorial board conducts a review of the draft journal issue before publication on the journal's website (<http://research.dusit.ac.th/new/e-Journal>). Suan Dusit University will place their official seal of approval on each page of the manuscript and to verify before formal publication.
10. Upon approval by each author, the final version of the journal will be published as a physical journal and online publication, accessible on website (<http://research.dusit.ac.th/new/e-Journal>). Together with sending a physical journal to peer reviews, authors and involved sectors.

Publication Criteria

1. The original manuscript is concise and interesting to the academic community.
2. The content of the manuscript represents quality and theory of the discipline and also possesses knowledge with practical applications.
3. The manuscript's content is consistent with the aim and scope of the journal.
4. Manuscripts submitted to Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science must not have been published previously in or actively involved in the publication process of another journal.
5. All content within the manuscript must be the product of the author himself. Any use of intellectual property within must be appropriately credited to its original authors.
6. The author must comply with the writing style established by Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science.

7. There are four levels of assessments given to reviewed manuscripts:
 - 7.1 Requires minor or no revisions prior to publication.
 - 7.2 Requires moderate revisions prior to publication.
 - 7.3 Requires intensive editing and revisions followed by a future evaluation.
 - 7.4 Unsuitable for publication

In order to be assigned the "Accepted" status, an article must be assessed as "Requires minor or no modification prior to publication" by two of the three experts from the peer review process.

Formatting Guidelines

It is the author's responsibility to format manuscripts to the standards of Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science. The details of format style are contained herein,

1. Format

1.1 Single page printing on A4 paper with a width of 19 cm and height of 26.5 cm. The vertical and horizontal spacing from the margins must be 3.5 cm and 25 cm, respectively.

1.3 An appropriate page length for publication in the Journal is approximately 15 pages.

2. Citing

Should follow American Psychological Association (APA) formatting guidelines. Guidelines for references can be found on the journal's website: <http://research.dusit.ac.th/new/th/pr/>

3. Ordering of Titles in Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science

The written manuscript may contain only English. The content should be easy to understand and clear. If the author uses abbreviation, full word must appear before any abbreviation.

3.1 The title should be brief, the length should not exceed 100 characters.

3.2 The authors if there are more than six authors only the first author is listed, followed by “et al.”

3.3 Affiliated entities associated with the author should appear in English languages.

3.4 The abstract must be written in English language. The abstract should briefly summarize the research and not exceed 250 words or 15 lines of text.

3.5 The “Keywords” section must contain no more than four keywords that allow for appropriate searching and selection based upon the article’s topic.

3.6 The “Introduction” section should provide background information relevant to the research and provide information regarding the manuscript’s content.

3.7 A statement of purpose should accompany the article to explicitly state the purpose of the study.

3.8 The framework clarifies the dependent and independent variables examined in the study.

3.9 The “Methodology” section delineates the procedures, how the research was conducted, sampling method (i.e. simple random samples) and population, and the creation and development of research tools used for data collection and analysis.

3.10 The “Results” section presents data obtained during the research and may be displayed as tables, graphs, illustrations, and accompanying explanations. Tables should be not have left and right borders and are normally black and white printed. No more than five tables should be present in the “Results” section. Pictures within the section should be clear and use simple black and white coloring with an accompanying caption, the author wishes to use colors for any item they may do so; however, the author will be responsible for the additional costs of color printing.

3.11 The “Discussion” section should include a summary of the findings and address whether or not the data support the research hypothesis and compare research findings to other similar research works.

3.12 The “Suggestions” section should provide recommendations for the application of the current work as well as potential areas for future research inquiries.

3.13 A final section should include contact information, address and e-mail, for each author. The list of authors should match the same order presented below the title on the title page.

Sending Original manuscript

1. Compose the manuscript using the format of the Journal of Food Health and Bioenvironmental Science.

2. Send the manuscript via the R-Sytem research database website <http://research.dusit.ac.th/r-system>.
